THESE — the scenes we remember

REWORD

Together we, the Class of '50, have worked our way up the steep and narrow path which leads to graduation. The time at last has come. Before we happily, yet regretfully, receive our diplomas and go our separate ways, we publish this book as an enduring reminder of our joyful experiences in our senior year at Concord High School.

DEDICATION

In genuine appreciation and in humble thankfulness for your invaluable aid in editing this book, for your unselfish assistance in our many personal problems, and especially for being our friend, we dedicate to you this record of our achievements—
THE 1950 SPIDER WEB.

To a sweet little "namesake"
I wish you the very best.
Here's to the future. Luck, love, and, happiness.
Your friend and mine
Love,
Stirling Sloop

"EVEN TOMORROW"

The sun may rise on brighter days
The moon on darker nights,
And rains may wash a purer land
While mountains reach great heights;
But in that vague tomorrow
With eyes bedimmed by tears,
We'll remember you, Alma Mater
Unchanged by all the years.

Even though your walls be crumbled
And your stairs be worn,
Or even if a new school rises
From your ruins completely torn;
We'll be faithful, Alma Mater,
Faithful yet to thee,
For a promise lasts forever
For as long as life shall be.

CLASS HISTORY

The Seniors of Concord High School have produced a play—one that is destined to become a smash-hit! I, as dramatic critic will review this production.

"The Story of the Class of 1950" is a play that consists of four acts and several all-too-brief intermissions. It is written and acted by the students as they play their parts under the capable direction of the principal, Mr. Glenn and his corps of assistants, the faculty.

The scenes take place in or near Concord High School,—in the corridors, classrooms, gymnasium, and auditorium.

Act I

Our performers are experiencing their first year of High School. We, of the audience, can see them as they hurry to their classes; we can see them as they chatter of study hall and homework. We can sense the quality of newness. As a class they entered high school, but only as individuals can they absorb the spirit of education. Music, sports, and club activities offer temporary relief from "excessive meditation." By now the struggle between study and the students has developed into a genuine tug of war that continues until the curtain of the first act.

Act II

The sophomore year could easily have been a carefree one if it had not been for our villain, Mr. Study. However, most of the students survived the barrage of homework. They won school-wide recognition for having the winning float of the Concord-Kannapolis parade before the all-important football game. When the Sophomore boys won the class-basketball tournament, the school realized that great things could be expected from this class.

Act III

Study stalks the Jolly Juniors! But the Class of 1950 defies the villain by developing its stars, the performers who are winning honors for themselves and their school. For his football prowess, Gene Morris was placed on the All-Piedmont Conference team. Howard Coleman received top rating at the Charlotte District Contest for his tenor solo. Don Corl and Kenneth Goodman journeyed to Florida to play in the Southern Orchestra. Once again the boy's basketball crown was retained by the Class of 1950. During commencement exercises, Betty Jo Irvin, Janet Hoover, Ernestine Robinson and Tommy Horton received prizes for their outstanding essays.

The last scene of the third act revealed the Class of 1950 staging an affair that honored the departing seniors—the annual Banquet and Dance.

Act IV

As seniors, the Class of 1950 boasts star performers in almost every field. "Chip" Ritchie, President, Maxine Swaringen, Vice President, Eleanor Goldston, Secretary and Don Motsinger, Treasurer were elected to lead the class. Bill Morris and Beverly Cumbie are co-editors of the Weavings. Don Corl guides the Spider Web staff. Co-captains "Tub" Braswell and Jimmy Doggett head the football team. Bobby Helms presides as president of the National Honor Society. Dot Safrin was elected chief-cheerleader by the student body.

"Arriving" as Seniors has meant a great deal to the Class of 1950. Study in the form of knowledge can now be regarded as a friend, an invaluable weapon to be used against ignorance throughout life.

Each Senior has won his own battle; each will receive his just reward. No performer has made the slightest gesture that has not been observed. Whether on stage or off, the actor is criticized by an audience—an audience that determines his career, his happiness, his destiny.

PAT MILLER, Class Historian

CLASS PROPHECY

We, the Class Prophets of 1950, graciously accepted an invitation to a New Year's Eve party given by our old class president, Chip Ritchie, at his palatial home at Miami Beach, Florida. While we were awaiting the arrival of the new year, 1960, we compared notes regarding the progress of the Senior Class of '50.

Betty Bennett and Pat Miller are now operating their own secretarial school with Raymelle Gregory, Elaine Measamer, and Peggy Faggart as their able assistants.

Bill "Pony" Irvin is tutoring basketball players at the University of Kentucky. He is being assisted by Martin Ray Sides.

Leafing through Life magazine, we noticed that Catherine "Dynamite" Chaney, Maxine Swaringen, and Eleanor Goldston have published their new astounding mathematical system. Their system will be used exclusively throughout the schools of our nation.

Bob Barringer and Max Ridenhour, noted motion picture producers, have recently released their latest movie entitled, "Slaughter On Fifth Avenue." Academy award winner, Beverly Cumbie, was awarded the starring role.

The woman's basketball championship battle of the century recently took place in Madison Square Garden. The star players were Phyllis Coleman, Betty Jo Irvine, and Sue Davis.

Bobby Dan Deaton is playing first base for the Cleveland Indians, who are currently in second place behind the Boston Red Sox.

Howard "Pudgy" Coleman, the famous all-American tenor, is performing before full houses at Carnegie Hall.

Alice Ketner and Carolyn Little have combined their talents in the production of another successful Broadway play.

Bill Morris, editor of the New York Times, is taking a "round the world tour."

Joe Misenheimer, Mickey Hopkins, and Carl Roberts are planning a return trip to Mars.

Mary Ruth Kluttz, who was voted "Miss America of 1959," has relinquished her title to become secretary to Joe Propst, president of the famous Propst Construction Company.

Jane Staton has been elected the first woman governor of North Carolina. We are certain that she will capably fulfill her duties in this honorable position.

Serving as chief caddy at the Meadowview Golf Course in Salisbury, N. C., is Bob Magill.

Both Donald Bost and Gordon Drye have been elected to the U. S. House of Representatives on the Democratic ticket.

Jean Ann Patterson and Buncy Robinson have just returned from Chicago where they performed in the famous Maquette Follies under the competent direction of Carolyn Smith.

Margaret Barnhardt, Marilyn Pendleton, and Shirley Little have recently completed a speaking tour throughout the U. S. They spoke on the timely theme, "How To Control Laughter In Public."

Zeb Smith, a famous lawyer, is fighting a case of non-support for James "Lulu" Teeter.

"The Four Mishaps," a world famous quartet consisting of Don Corl, Ken Goodman, Don Waddell, and Bobby Helms, are making a tour across the nation and performing before full houses.

Recently Gail Winecoff and Beverly Fisher were awarded the Pulitzer Prize for their inspiring novel, "How To Live Without French." It was Gail Francis and Imogene Walker who urged them to undertake the enormous task.

Charles Allen and Joe Hartsell are hunting and fishing in upper Canada.

Robert "Tub" Braswell is playing pro football for the Los Angeles Rams.

Marie Cochrane and Peggy Furr own and operate their own Beauty Salon located in Nashville, Tennessee.

Louise Roberts, Barbara Weddington, and Novaleene Trull are teaching Home Economics at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina.

Fred Ketner and Gene Morris are operating a dog hospital in Mt. Pleasant, N. C.

Charles Furr has been selected head usher at the Carolina Theatre located in Charlotte, N. C.

We find that Dot Safrit is the head cheerleader at the University of Southern California. On the side line we are told that she teaches cheerleading in ten easy lessons.

Annis Trout has been appointed as minister to the country of Brazil. We know that she will continue working to bring about better relationships between the countries.

Buddy Kluttz is coaching the national defending Champion Concord American Legion Junior Baseball team.

Luther Hartsell is serving as publicity director for the U. N. C. football team.

Gary Widenhouse and Tommy Horton are two of the nation's most prominent business men. They are now owners of the Electrolux Company.

Bill Deal is a famous interior decorator with his office located in St. Louis, Missouri.

Janet Hoover and Sara Blackwelder have become the nation's top blues singers with their interpretation of "Blues Stay Away From Me." Their accompanist is Jo Ann Correll.

Billie Ann Braswell, Dotty Horton, and Nancy Widenhouse are employed as fashion editors by the famous magazine, "Harper's Bazaar."

Betty Ruth Corzine has become president of a girls' college in Denver, Colorado. Assisting her in teaching the courses in mountain climbing are Geraldine Holshouser, Ann Weddington, and Doris Russell.

Gene Calloway and Fred Sloop are serving as engineers on the Southern Railroad.

Joan Peninger is serving on the nursing staff at a hospital in Jacksonville, Florida.

Chip Ritchie is the chief engineer for the Duke Power Company.

Ray Greene and Bob Mabrey are playing baseball for the Detroit Tigers of the American League.

Bette Hoover and Carolyn Newton are now appearing with the Metropolitan Opera for their third consecutive season.

Peggy Ann Lipe and Lottie Ruth Carpenter are two of the most outstanding physical education directors in the state.

We are told that the "Lovers", Ira Jane Plott and Jack Brown, have just consented to write a series of articles entitled "How To Stay Happily Married." Helping them in this venture will be Barbara Keasler and Vivian Honeycutt.

Frank Moose and Baxter Stewart are serving as instructors at a famous art school in New York.

Dale Miller is currently playing pro basketball for the Minneapolis Lakers.

Bill Haney and Buddy Lippard are in the poultry business in upper Connecticut.

Fred Hull, of the U. S. Navy, is swabbing decks on the U. S. Roberta.

Robert Edsell and Bobby Spears are operating the "Last Chance Saloon" in Dead Man's Gulch. Jack Isenhour is serving as their "soda jerk."

Don Motsinger is manager of Efid's Department Store in Chicago, Illinois. For a side line John Jones sells used cars for him.

By an overwhelming majority, Elise Lomax and Helen Duncan were voted the year's most outstanding modern artists.

Bobby Cagle is roaming the outer gardens of Fenway Park in Boston, Massachusetts along with Ted Williams and Dom DiMaggio of the Red Sox.

Serving as efficient librarians in the Community Center, we find Inabelle McClamrock and Johnnie Ruth Sears.

Joe Eudy is promoting stock car racing throughout the southeastern part of the United States.

Iris Coley, Millie Earnhardt, and Shirley Newton are now famous models. They received their training from Carolyn Johnson's studio located in Houston, Texas.

Watson Bost and Hunter Benfield are achieving great fame and success through their business in Reno, Nevada.

Melba Tallent, Betty Morgan, and Julia Lipe have recently established their own florist shop in Charlotte, N. C.

Ann Patterson, Louise Scott, and Betty Starnes are owners of the famous store, "The Style Center," located in Raleigh, N. C.

Thus, another chapter for the class of '50 has been brought to a close, but with the new year an even brighter future lies in store for our classmates.

Co-Prophets of the Class of 1950

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

SECTION I

ARTICLE I

We, the Senior Class of '50, realizing that our days here at Concord High are fast drawing to a close, do make this our last will and testament, bequeathing our possessions to the rightful heirs.

ARTICLE II

To dear old C. H. S. we leave loyalty and respect.

ARTICLE III

To our principal, Mr. Glenn, and the teachers of C. H. S., we leave our best wishes and kindest regards. We will always be grateful for your efforts and patience with us.

SECTION II

I, Phyllis (The Accountant) Coleman, leave my ability to make A's on Bookkeeping to Carolyn Duncan, who probably won't need it.

We, Carolyn (Oh! My Aching Feet) Little and Maxine (A Bug) Swaringen, leave luck and sympathy to those receiving the jobs of Advertising Manager of the Weavings and Spider Web.

I, Elise (or is it Elsie?) Lomax, leave with the wish that I could return and re-live my high school days.

I, Elaine (Tut! Tut!) Measmer, leave my winning ways to Jeanette Wensil.

I, Iris "Dink" Coley, leave my friendly and happy nature to Joan Hagler.

We, Betty Starnes and Eleanor (Firecracker) Goldston, leave our ability to get our homework to Jerry Jarvis and Doris Richardson.

I, Don (Waddle) Waddell, leave my musical gifts to the band so that we can say that the "band played on."

We, Shirley Newton and Melba Talent, leave our friendliness to our sisters, Marlene and Shirley.

I, Ina Belle (Lula Belle) McClamrock, leave my sweet temper to Mary Dawn Hopkins.

I, Carolyn (The Dictionary) Newton, leave my extensive vocabulary to Violet Ruth Puckett.

We, Ann (Pat) Patterson and Doris (I love book-keeping) Russell, leave our reserve to Betty Dorton and Sara Sapp, who we hope will take advantage of it.

I, Marilyn (The Chatter-box) Pendleton, leave my incessant "Yackity-Yack" to Dean Plott.

I, Joan (Florence Nightingale) Peninger, leave my dignity to Rebecca Calloway.

We, Ira Jane Plott and Jack (I can dream, can't I) Brown, leave—together.

We, Ernestine (Buncy) Robinson and Carolyn (Smitty) Smith, leave our struttin' ability to Dotty Caton and "Keachie" respectively.

I, "Dot" (I've got pep) Safrit, leave my vocal-chords to the cheering squads (they are too strong to leave to one person).

We, Louise (Wink) Scott and Vivian (The House-keeper) Honeycutt, leave our "I can-get-a-man-technique" to Betty Cathcart and Helen Melchor.

I, Jean Ann (Doll Eyes) Patterson, leave my grins and sparkling eyes to Peggy Blanchard.

I, Betty (Peepie) Irvine, leave my love for basketball to Sally Scott.

We, Jane (can do anything) Staton and Zeb Smith, leave our extra-ordinary qualities to Phoebe and Luther Barnhardt.

I, Annis (Tug) Trout, leave my talents to the entire Junior Class.

I, Novalene (Clearer than any) Trull, leave my distinct enunciation to Miss Gabriel's next English class.

I, Ann (Gabby) Weddington and Buddy (Baldy) Lippard, leave our curly locks to Ethel Buckner and Gene Meadows.

I, Nancy (Blondie) Widenhouse, leave my dancing talents to Patty Crowell.

I, Gail (Bigg'un) Winecoff, leave my neatness to Torbert Brewer.

I, Fred (Give me your name and address) Hull, leave my flirtatious ways to Bobby Gandy.

I, Bill (Pony) Irvin, leave my handsome looks to Martin Jordan.

I, Jackie (the Ripley of 1950) Isenhour, leave my intellectual capacity to David Sides.

We, Bob (Speedie) Mabrey, Luther (Luke the Spook) Hartsell, and John (You'll get there safely) Jones, leave our "dare-devil" driving to anyone who dares use it.

I, Fred (Gizzard) Ketner, leave my brawdy shoulders to Gene Hinson.

We, Don (Smilie) Motsinger and Buddy (Leon Hart) Kluttz, leave our smiles to enrich those of Ken Kellough and Ralph Drye.

I, Bob (Sam) Magill, leave a portion of my quietness to Marion Bost who needs it.

I, Dale (Whitie) Miller, leave my happiness and laughter to Bill Little.

I, Ray (Knock 'em in the eye and hit 'em on the head) Green, leave my Basketball and Baseball fans to Larry Sedberry.

We, Gail (Sticky) Francis and Sara (Sadie) Blackwelder, leave our giggles to Katie Peigler and Francis Bost.

I, Bobby Dan (Bub) Deaton, leave my surprised expressions to Carl Furr.

I, Joe (The World's Greatest Baseball Player) Misenheimer, leave the third base to Larry McCall.

We, Carolyn Johnson, Louise Roberts, Barbara Weddington, and Millie Earnhardt (We love the men), leave our daily gatherings at the Soda Shop to Pat Simpson, Nancy Misenheimer, and Colleen Whitley.

I, Peggy (Flea) Furr, leave my perpetual talking to Betty Dry.

I, Charles Allen, leave my car to my brother, Joe Allen, and my sister, Jean, and to the boys who think they can get her.

I, Hunter (Freck) Benfield, leave my "wise-cracks" to Nick Peck.

I, Helen (Dunk) Duncan, leave my date book and phone calls to Bede Bob Sasser.

We, Pat Miller and Betty Bennett, leave our ability to be friends to Nancy Misenheimer and Cora Mae Peninger.

I, Beverly (I'm from Texas) Cumbie, leave my acting talent to Orchard Hord.

I, Sue (Bouncer) Davis, leave—and its about time, too.

I, Barbara (I'm engaged) Keasler, leave my thoughtfulness to Joanne Carson.

I, Catherine (Dynamite) Chaney, leave my Einstein brain to Martha Faggart.

I, Mary Ruth (The beauty specialist) Kluttz, leave my attractiveness to Carol McMahan.

I, Don (Duck) Corl, leave my poise to Sonny Morgan.

I, Bob (I love math) Barringer, leave in order to get away from Higher Algebra.

I, Bette (I'm better than Jenny Lind) Hoover, leave my golden voice to Betty Caton.

I, Jo Anne Correll, leave my ability to tickle the ivories to Marilu Peck.

I, Geraldine Holshouser, leave my soft voice to my sister, Shirley.

I, Bill (Van Gogh) Deal, leave my originality to Eugene Bost.

I, Julia (Duck) Lipe, leave my library duties to Pat Williams.

I, Mickey (The Mouse) Hopkins, leave my stubs of pencils, erasers, and scraps of paper in the excitement and haste of gathering up my treasure for the last time.

We, Betty Morgan and Johnnie (Red) Sears, leave a pair of skates to the freshmen. (Be careful and don't try to rush graduation too fast).

In witness hereof, we the senior class of '50 do hereby set our signs and seal, this 14th day of February in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and fifty.

MUSIC

CHORD"

Under the direction of Mr. Peck the Concord High School Band has had a very eventful year. Besides playing and marching at the football games this year, the band marched in four Christmas parades and the annual Shrine Bowl parade. As part of the Cabarrus Gold Sesquicentennial Celebration the band led several parades and played at the pageant. One of the band's major accomplishments this year was the purchase of new uniforms which are similar in style to the old uniforms.

BEGINNERS' BAND

The Beginners' Band, under the joint leadership of Mr. Peck and Mr. Goodman, affords an excellent opportunity for students not skilled enough for the Varsity Band to learn the fundamentals of applied music. When students are proficient enough to enter the Varsity Band, they are promoted immediately.

CHORUS

MR. BUFORD YOUNG GOODMAN.....Director

This year the chorus, composed of ninety-four members, was the largest in the history of the high school. Under the very capable direction of Mr. Goodman, the chorus gave several concerts and participated in numerous special programs. Several small ensembles were formed with members of the chorus, and these groups sang on various occasions.

Manager: Larry Williams, Thomas Neal Hopkins, George Moose.

VARSDTY FOOTBALL

The Spider football team finished the season with three wins and seven defeats. With only nine lettermen returning, Coach Austin had to look to last year's B-squad for his team.

Although inexperienced, the Spiders fought gamely and never gave up without a battle.

"Tub" Braswell, Gene Morris, Buddy Kluttz, Jerry Smith, and Roy Thomas stood out along the forward wall, while Jimmy Doggett, Bill Irvin, Joe Allen, Fred Ketner, "Canvass" Hinson, Basil Talbirt, Conley Ray Suther, and Larry McCall played well in the backfield.

This year's B-Squad brought forth several players who will aid Coach Austin on the varsity next year.

Among the outstanding players were: Joe Widenhouse, Kenny Austin, Phil Penninger, and Bobby Summerall.

First Row: Coach Bonner, Dan Brown, Rodney Morrison, Bill Peden, Gerald Dick, Jerry Sloop, Don Roberts, Coach Sparks.

Third Row: Joe Widenhouse, Richard Lapis, Bobby Linker, Bob Summerall, Bill Little.

Boys' B-Squad Football

Girls' B-Squad Basketball

The experience these girls get on the B-Squad will aid them greatly when they graduate to varsity ranks.

This year's squad is very large, showing that the interest for sports is growing in Concord High. The outlook for winning basketball teams is very bright.

First Row: Mary Eleanor White, Darlene Moore, Peggy Puckett, Mary Ann Thornburg, Margaret Hennessee, Frances Haywood, Betty Baker, Rita Bunn, Carolyn Cook.

Second Row: Nancy Tucker, Barbara Nance, Maxine Lentz, Temple Thomason, Mason Morris, Sandra Deaton, Deanie Hathcock, Ruth Mann, Doris Suther, Nancy Hatley, Frances Creighton.

BASEBALL

The Concord High baseball team opened the season with seven returning lettermen and about fifteen more candidates.

Managers: Pat Simpson and Millie Cline.

The Spideretts started the season with only three lettermen. Coach Austin had to get his team mostly from last year's B-Squad.

Inexperience proved a great disadvantage to the girls, but they gave every team a good fight.

They won 2, lost 11, and tied 1 in the South Piedmont Conference.

CHEERLEADERS

Concord High is lucky to have such a fine staff of cheerleaders. They attended all athletic events, no matter where they were played, and led the yells.

The cheerleaders also help promote good feelings between Concord High and rival schools.

The Student Organization is made up of two bodies, the Student Council and the Student Assembly. These organizations are the link between the students and teachers.

During the past year the Assembly has sponsored many dances. Its main efforts have been to establish better public relations among the schools in this area and to achieve greater participation of the students in social and athletic events. Clean-up week and a successful Sponsor's Night for the football team were also sponsored.

The Student Assembly is trying to build a good school and to hold high the democratic ideal that it represents.

JOURNALISM CLUB

The Journalism Club was organized at Concord High School in 1939 with the purpose of publishing a newspaper, encouraging creative ability, and giving training to those interested in newspaper work. The Weavings, the school paper, was begun by the class of 1931. This year, under the direction of Mrs. B. H. Tharrington, the club has displayed enthusiastic efforts in producing this six-page newspaper every two weeks.

QUILL AND SCROLL

The Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists, was organized in Concord High School in 1942 with the purpose of encouraging and rewarding the individual student for meritorious work in journalism and allied fields. Juniors, seniors, and post-graduates who are in the upper third of their class and who have done superior work in writing, editing, or business management are eligible.

The motto of the society is "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free."

The Cafeteria Assistants are students who give their time, energy, and service in order that the routine of the school may go on. The daily preparation of lunch in the cafeteria throughout the year could not successfully be carried on without these willing workers, whose only glory is the left-overs.

During the year the cafeteria assistants planned and presented programs for the purpose of learning more about proper meals.

DRAMATICS CLUB

The Pan Players, Concord High School's senior dramatic organization, has been in existence since 1932. Its purpose is to encourage an interest in dramatic arts and to help students in self-development. During the current school year the Pan Players have produced the famous Broadway hit, George Washington Slept Here, the movie favorite, Mother Is a Freshman, and have assisted the Seniors in producing their play.

The following one-act plays have been produced this season: Contrast, The Ugly Duckling, and He Done Her Wrong. In addition, the Pan Players have given no less than ten programs for civic and church groups.

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

In 1928 the Invictus Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized at Concord High School. The aims of this organization are to encourage high scholarship, to promote worthy leadership, to incite a desire to render useful service, and to encourage the development of high character in the students of Concord High School. This year the club chose as its minor project the establishment of a college catalogue library. Most important of its undertakings, however, was being host chapter to the 1950 state convention of the National Honor Society.
